Our faculty, staff, and administrators have cared for you and offered you strong support and excellent advice.

MESSEGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

ABDI SAHARDIID

This is the time of year I cherish the most, when our students here at Addis Ababa Medical University College graduate and use the skills and knowledge they have gained to help our nation prosper. I am thankful, all praises belong to Allah (SWT) for he gave us the strength to reach this day.

You have worked hard and smart at AAMUC to excel in your studies. You have found at AAMUC a warm environment for your personal growth and maturity. Our faculty, staff, and administrators have cared for you and offered you strong support and excellent advice. You have established everlasting friendships that will inspire you throughout your life. You have, by your accomplishments, filled the hearts of your parents with happiness and satisfaction. But your graduation date will only mark the commencement of a new phase in your lives.

I look forward to learning of the future accomplishments of the members of the Class of 2018, for you will leave here well prepared for what awaits you, such as pursuing another degree/master or beginning a new job. Whatever you decide to do choose wisely, for our choices determine our future and I hope each and every one of your future's shine bright.

Life is a journey, and all accomplishments we achieve during its course should be taken as a starting point for further achievement.

MESSEGE FROM THE VICE PRESIDENT

MAHAMUD S. ASKAR

A ssalaamu 'Alaikum Wa Rahmatullahi Wa Barakatuh
Good morning family, friends, special guest and our prestigious graduates.

Congratulations, you accomplished such a major accomplishment, gaining a Bachelor Degree. This is a key step in the journey of your lives, one that should be recognized for its immense significance. It is an act not only of personal commitment, but also one of pride. A bachelor degree is a wonderful tool in this world, one that opens many doors of opportunity for anyone who is lucky enough to have one. But graduation is not an end goal in itself; it is instead a part of the larger journey of life. Wherever your future takes you, let it take you somewhere meaningful inshallah. Life is a journey, and all accomplishments we achieve during its course should be taken as a starting point for further achievement. Your graduation should be a starting point, projecting you to wherever your futures are meant to take you.

From this day forward, please make each decision with your best interested in mind. Believe in yourselves so that you may reach your goals and fulfill your dreams. I pray you become the best possible versions of yourselves and hope you fill your lives and the lives of those closest to you with happiness and with pride. It's time to take the next step into your lives and begin to build your future; I truly believe you all can make a big difference for the greater good of your families, communities and our beloved country.

I hope to hear how successful you've all become a few years from now and I truly wish each and every one of you become what you aspire to be, Inshallah. Good luck to all of you and I congratulate you all again.

"Allah (Alone) is Sufficient for us, and (He is) the Best Disposer of affairs"
Surah Al-Imran ,verse 173

MESSEGE FROM THE ACADEMIC DEAN

On behalf of the Addis Ababa Medical University College, I would like to extend my deepest congratulations and prayers for success to all graduates of Health Science. You have been exceptional representatives of the University. I have no doubt that you will continue to serve as valuable ambassadors for the University by building upon our standing for excellence and it is important to stay focused, monitor and measure your progress and check yourself regularly. Seek the guidance of Allah through prayer and reflection. Seek the advice of your community elders, parents and teachers.

I believe that graduates of the Health Science are unique in that, regardless of your chosen area of practice, all of you have the opportunity to enrich the lives of those around you. As you undertake and progress through your careers, I urge you to always remember why you chose your respective field and the sacrifices that you endured in order to make it happen: to serve our communities and improve the quality of life and health of its members with compassion, honesty and integrity.

I would also like to give special thanks to the parents, spouses, children and friends of our graduates for their patience, understanding, sacrifices and support - both moral and financial during these challenging, but rewarding, years at the college. Although your guidance, comfort and encouragement certainly will continue to be sought and appreciated in the years to come, you can rejoice in the gradual return to “normalcy” with no more long nights of studying, get-togethers unattended and trips untaken. Yet, even more so, you can desire the shared feeling of advantage in what your graduate has skilled and the rich opportunities forward.

In the coming years, I would ask that you not forget your University and former Instructors. I encourage you to not only give back to the University by supporting college activities, programs and scholarships, but also by keeping us updated on the many achievements you will experience in your careers and personal lives. We will always take great pride in your achievements.

Congratulations to all the graduates; may Allah grant us all true success in this world and Hereafter, and may we all find in ourselves ever increasing gratitude to our Creator.

Take care and stay in touch!

AHMED ISMAIL BATUN

MESSEGE FROM THE DEPARTMENT HEAD

On behalf of My Office, Teaching and Inspiration to you, I extend a sincere congratulation upon you Class of 2018. You have been exceptional representatives of the University. I have no doubt that you will continue to serve as worthy ambassadors for the college by building upon our reputation for excellence.

I believe that graduates of the Clinical Officers, Public Health Officers and Midwives are unique in that, regardless of your chosen area of practice, all of you have the opportunity to enrich the lives of those around you. As you embark upon and progress through your careers.

I urge you to always remember why you chose your respective field and the sacrifices that you endured in order to make it happen to serve our communities and improve the quality of life and health of its members with compassion, honesty and integrity. I would also like to give special thanks to the parents, spouses, children and friends of our graduates for their patience, understanding, sacrifices and support - both moral and financial - during these challenging, but rewarding, years at the college.

Finally, Do not Forget ever the Exceptional Days, Nights, Events and Memories That We have had together In addition to Studies at any Circumstance.

Take Care and Stay In Touch! Allah Bless You!

ABDIKARIM DAHIR TANI

Dean of Departments , Addis Ababa Medical University Colleage

Exceptional Days, Nights, Events and Memories That We have had together
In addition to Studies at any Circumstance.

I am thankful the almighty ALLAH: helped me to forward you my message and in overall helped all of my dear graduate students to reach at one of the visionary points in your life. A qualified graduate should be able to demonstrate mastery of knowledge, synthesize and contribute to the existing body of knowledge through research and enhancement of quality of health professionals. Practical skills gained in your study should be applied in your respective fields with creativity and innovation.

Here at Addis Ababa Medical University College, we have endeavored to nourish your faith in yourselves as carefully and as lovingly, as we have tended to your knowledge and to your vision. We have striven to give you opportunities to experience yourselves as capable and effective men and women.

On this day, as you depart from our immediate care, I invite you to consider that the uncertainties, the risks, the dangers, the opportunities that lie before you in the future that these are all simply the raw materials out of which you will fashion your own new worlds. You do not need to be confident about what events might bring, but you do need to be confident in your own capacity to master events and to respond to them with grace and with intelligence, whatever events might occur.

When you leave here, you will become hopefully a health professional leaders in your chosen fields and hopefully you will keep the un endless proud we do have for you.

I cannot express how excited I am to watch you from afar. Come back and see us, and when you do, bring stories.

But for now, on behalf of research and quality assurance department I would like to say Congratulations to all of you and wish you a bright future in every aspect of your life.

Congratulations!

MUKTAR BESHIR AHMED

We have striven to give you opportunities to experience yourselves as capable and effective men and women.

ASSESSMENT OF KNOWLEDGE ATTITUDE AND PRACTICE TOWARDS GESTATIONAL DIABETES AMONG PREGNANT WOMEN ATTENDING MCHS, IN HARGEISA

ABSTRACT

Background:

Worldwide, Approximately 7% of all pregnancies are complicated by GDM, resulting in more than 200,000 worldwide cases annually and the prevalence may range from 1% to 14% of all pregnancies depending on the population studied. It is a major cause of prenatal morbidity and mortality, as well as maternal morbidity.

Objective:

The major aim was to assess knowledge, attitude and practice towards gestational diabetes among pregnant women attending MCH in Hargeisa, Somaliland.

Methodology:

A facility based descriptive cross-sectional study was conducted on 269 pregnant women attending MCHs from 1 to 21 May, 2018.

Data was collected in face to face interview using structured questionnaire.

Result:

The majority 151 (56.10%) of the respondent had poor knowledge and the remaining 118 (43.90%) had good knowledge on gestational Diabetes. Regarding the attitude, majority 113 (79.20%) had positive attitude, while 56 (20.80%) had negative attitude towards the gestational diabetes. The majority of study participants 238 (94.1%) had good practice.

Conclusion:

There is a gap in pregnant women knowledge, attitude and practice towards gestational diabetes. The study showed that majority of pregnant women had poor knowledge towards gestational diabetes.

Recommendation:

Further large scale study is important to understand the community KAP towards gestational diabetes in this area. The ministry of health and NGOs working on MCHs sectors should work on to improve KAP of pregnant women towards gestational diabetes

Key words: Gestational diabetes, Knowledge, Attitude and Practice.

PREVALENCE OF HYPERTENSION AMONG PREGNANT WOMEN ATTENDING MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH (MCH) CENTRES IN HARGEISA, SOMALILAND

Background:

Hypertension among pregnant women is a common medical complication during pregnancy. The overall prevalence, social and demographic characteristics of hypertension among pregnant women in Somaliland is still not precisely unknown.

Objectives:

The major aim of the study were to assess the prevalence of hypertension among the pregnant women attending maternal and child health care centers in Hargeisa, Somaliland.

Methods:

A facility based descriptive cross sectional study was conducted a sample of 135 pregnant women attending Guryosamo and Khalid MCHs in Hargeisa city. The study used structured questionnaire and the study was conducted on May 2018. Data was entered by EpiData and Statistical Package for Social Sciences (SPSS) software version 16.0 was used for data analysis.

Results:

The study found that the prevalence of hypertensive disorders among pregnant women was 27 (20 %) among pregnant women. Eclampsia (convulsions) was the most common complication associated with hypertension while 15(9.88%), followed by operative delivery 8(5.80%) and abruption placenta which counted 2(1.4%).

Conclusion:

The study concluded that the prevalence of hypertension among pregnant women attending maternal and child health care was high (20%). Approximately one in five of pregnant women had high blood pressure.

Recommendations:

Improved health programs on hypertension, proper antenatal care, early referral and proper documentation can minimize the effect of hypertension on pregnancy. Further studies focused on evaluated associated factors of hypertension should be conducted.
